

Work From Home Policy

Employees may work remotely up to two days per week.

Managers may approve additional remote work under exceptional circumstances.

Employees must remain available during business hours while working remotely.

Sensitive company information must never be accessed from unsecured devices.

Attendance records are maintained regardless of work location.